A big thank you to the artists and performers who have worked with the children over the past few weeks:

Ex Cathedra are based in Birmingham and are currently in the middle of their concert season across the UK and Europe. See them at the Birmingham Symphony Hall on 5th April. For more details visit www.excathedra.co.uk.

Wiesniacy - meaning 'country folk' - are a traditional Polish folklore song and dance group based in Birmingham. They recently performed at the Choral Olympiad at the Symphony Hall. Visit www.wiesniacy.org for more information.

Dance Sansaar - or 'dance world' - are a group of dance professionals dedicated to promoting Punjabi folk arts. They specialise in Punjabi folk dance, which is known as Lawk Naach. You can learn more about their work at www.dancesansaar.com.

Simone Rebello's solo career has taken her all around the world with appearances on national and international TV and radio, including BBC's The Proms. As a member of the percussion group Backbeat, she has toured extensively and released several CDs. To find out more, visit www.simonerebello.com.
